

So what's different from the PRIMARY KEY and UNIQUE CONSTRAINT?

- 1. PRIMARY KEY does not allow NULL in their fields, and UNIQUE - allow.
- 2. PK - there can be only one. UQ - can be any number.
- 3. When you create a PRIMARY KEY by default creates a clustered index, and when you create a UNIQUE not.